

Measuring success in a lot of little ways ...

- ☒ We're teaching democratic values and progressive ideals by example.
- ☒ We're monitoring local media, blog posts, and letters to the editor, acting as a watchdog and defending democratic values, integrity and offering balance to opposing and distorted views.
- ☒ Our visibility assures the diverse people here that they are not alone in their views on equality, fair taxation, environmental and social responsibility, education, separation of church and state, and organized labor.

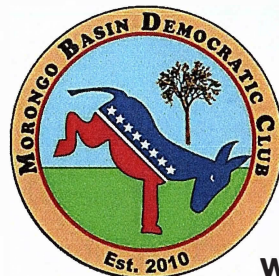

Of course, none of this would be possible without people like you.
